مقدمة

تلاحظ دائماً التردد الظاهر من طرفي الحوار عند البدء بالتكلم أو الكتابة باللغة الانجليزية. حتى عندما يكون المتحاورين أو الكاتبين هم من الضالعين بهذه اللغة، فبغض النظر عن الأخطاء الاملائية، هنالك الأخطاء في صياغة العبارات أو في استبدال الكلمات القريبة من بعضها مما يقلب المعنى رأساً على عقب.

جاء هذا الكتاب كضرورة ليبين لك أين تكمن أخطاءك ولماذا...

غالباً ما تريد قوله يأتي عكس ما يفهمه المتلقي. لقد أدرجنا ستة عشر درساً للأخطاء الشائعة في اللغة الانجليزية التي ننصح باستعراضها كاملة لأنها ستشكل لك مفاجأة بأن معظم ما تتلفظ به هو العكس تماما لما تريد قوله.

Life in Sweden الحياة في السويد

Everyone wants to know more about Sweden. It's brilliant. It's very cold in winter. Sometimes as cold as -26, and of course when you go out you wrap up warm but inside in the houses, it's always very warm, much warmer thsn in England. Moreover the houses, in Sweden, are much better insulated than in Britain. But around Christmas time, in December, there's only one hour of daylight. So, you really look forward to the spring. It's sometimes a bit depressing but summers are amazing. From May to July in the north of Sweden, the sun never sets. It's still light at midnight; you can walk and read a newspaper. It's called the land of the midnight sun. So you want to stay up all night. As for holidays and weekends, every house has a sauna and most people have a country cottage. These cottages are sometimes quite primitive. So, people like to leave and get back to nature at weekends.

The best shopping street in the world

افضل شارع للتسوق في العالم

A recent survey has shown that the busiest shopping street in the world is not in London, New York, or Paris, but in Warsaw. It's called Nowy swait (pronouced / navi jviet) and means new world. It's a lovely place for shopping. The pavements are very wide. There are statues, palaces, attractive houses, exclusive cafés and high class restaurants. In fact, the whole city was rebuilt after world war II. There aren't any bill boards or neon lights. There aren't many tourists.

Nawy swiat has a lot of small shops, specialists shops, and chic shops. If you want an exquisite hand made suit, Nowy swiat is the place to go. It isn't cheap. A dress for a baby girl is about 90. At De'sa, there is a famous antique shop, where a desk costs 5,000. There are also a lot of boutiques that sell men's and women's clothes. It's possible to find the same things for sale in any country but Warsaw is different because its shops are unique.

Telling a story

Once upon a time, there was a beautiful princess who had a golden ball. She lived in a palace with her father, the king. Everyday she played with her ball in the garden. At the end of the garden there was a deep lake. Unfortunately, one day she dropped her ball into the water. She was very unhappy and she sat on the grass and started crying. Suddenly she heard a voice "Don't cry, princess" she saw a large frog, "Oh, please help me!" she said "I can't get my ball"
"I'll help you" said the frog, "If I can come and live with you in the palace!"
"Yes, yes, of course. I promise" said the princess. So, the frog jumped into the water and came back with the ball. The princess took the ball and ran quickly back to the palace and forgets all about the frog.
But the frog followed her into the palace and told her father "a promise is a promise" said the frog.
"Yes", said the king. He asked his daughter to take the frog to her room and to look after it. The frog looked at her and said quietly, "please kiss me, princess" she closed her eyes and kissed it. Suddenly the frog turned into a handsome prince. They fell in love. Then they get married and lived happily ever after.

Hopes and ambitions 39 آمال وطموحات

- Mark: What I'd really like to do, because I'm mad about planes and everything to do with flying, is to have my own business connected with planes. Something like a school. I'm getting married next june, so I can't do anything about it yet, but I'm going to start looking this time next year.

- Madi: When I grow up, I want to be a football player and play for Manchester United, because I want to earn lots of money. After that, I'm going to be an astronaut, and fly in a rocket to Mars and Jupiter. And I'd like all the people and animals in the world to be happy.

- Martin: My great passion is writing. I write plays. Three have been performed already, two in Edinburgh and one in Oxford. But my secret ambition and this would be the best thing in my life 1 would love to have one of my plays performed on the London Stage. That would be fantastic.

In Hollywood everybody wants to be rich famous and beautiful. Nobody wants be old, unknown and poor.
For Hollywood, kids' life can be difficult because they grow up in such as unreal atmosphere. Their parents are ambitious. And the children are boast of parents' ambitions. Parents pay for extravagant parties, expensive cars and designer clothes. Where every dream can come true, kids learn the value of nothing because they have everything. A 13 years old boy has a driver, credit cards and unlimited cash to do what he wants when he wants. "One day I'll earn more then my dad", he boasts parents by care and attention for their children because they have no time to give it themselves. Amanda's mother employs a personal trainer, a nutritionist, a body guard, a chauffeur, a singing coach and a counselor to look after all her daughter's (15 years old) needs.
Often, there's no parent at home most of the days, so children organize their own social lives. They become adults before they're ready.
Hollywood has always been the city of dreams. The kids in L.A live unreal lives where money, beauty and pleasure are the only gods.

Camping in a mountain

Tom's father got a new job in another town. They moved near the new office. Tom joined a new school where he had no friends. When the school organized a camping trip, Tom was asked by his father to go; he could make new friends. The Camp site was up in a mountain. The boys took tents to sleep in. The first day, they played and were merry. At night, they sat around the camp fire and talked and sang. Then they got into their sleeping bags to sleep.

The next day, the weather suddenly changed. The wind blew black clouds and it began to rain heavily. The boys were wet and cold.

About midday, the rain stopped. Mr. Miller, their teacher, and the boys began to run along the path to get warm. Soon, it started to rain again. Suddenly, Tom slipped and fell down. He hit his head. As his injury was serious, Mr. Miller told Tom not to move and asked Bill to stay with Tom. They all ran down the mountain, while Bill sat beside Tom in the rain for three hours until the ambulance came and carried Tom to the hospital.

Food Groups

مكونات الطعام

At the beginning of the twentieth century, scientists found that there were tiny quantities of some chemicals, which we now call vitamins, were scattered among the three great food groups: proteins, carbohydrates and fats. They noticed that they had their effect on the growth of man and animals. Sailors who did not eat fresh food during their long voyages suffered from a disease called scurvy. They did not recover until they had eaten fresh food containing vitamins on land. Young rats which were fed on pure protein, starch and fat did not grow well until a spoonful of fresh milk containing vitamins was added daily.

Searching for happiness البحث عن السعادة

A long, long time ago, when the world was young, three men decided to set out find happiness. The first thought that we are happy when we can avoid pain and secure pleasure. Being a rich man, he built himself a wonderful palace and filled it with all treasures that could be obtained. He lived an easy and luxurious life. On his death bed, he confessed that despite his pleasure and luxuries there had been a hollowness and unhappiness in his life.

The second realized that it was impossible to avoid pain, failure and disappointment. Retiring from life, he divorced the world and lived alone. But, he too, missed happiness.

The third, realizing the failure of his predecessors, trod the path between the two extremes, devoting his life to a noble aim. He decided to devote his life to duty he owed to his family and his duty to society. He became a lovable person, respected by all .....

The sun الشمس

The sun is well known by everybody all over the world. Once we wake up in the morning, we enjoy the light and warmth of the sun. It provides all beings whether humans, animals or plants with heat and light. Plants are capable of getting their food by the sun through photosynthesis. Humans and animals depend on plants to get nourishment. Moreover, heat of the sun provides us with rain which forms rivers and causes floods. Sea water evaporates by the heat of the sun and forms clouds which cause rain. Despite all these blessings, the sun sends x-rays and ultraviolet rays which are dangerous to all beings. Fortunately, these dangerous rays get soaked up in the atmosphere before they reach our earth. Therefore, they have no effect on all beings on our planet. Life on our earth depends entirely on the sun. That's why it was worshipped by some people in the past.

The Hamburger

The hamburger is the most eaten food in the whole world. The first hamburgers were made and sold in Connecticut in 1895 by an American chef called Louis Lassen. Louis called them hamburgers because he was given the recipe by sailors from Hamburg in Germany. Hamburgers became the favorite in America in the early part of the twentieth century. Their popularity grew even more after the second world war, when they were bought in large quantities by teenagers who preferred fast food to family meals. In 1948 two brothers, Dick and McDonald opened a drive-in hamburger restaurant in San Bernardino, California. Now 35 million McDonald's hamburgers are eaten everyday in 115 countries from India to the Arctic Circle.

The value of money قيمة المال

It makes the world go round. Everybody wants it. Everybody works for it. Nobody can live without it. What is it? It's money of course. Our simplest needs and our greatest dreams are often connected with money. Home trade with its buying and selling depends on money. International trade with its imports and exports is carried out by means of money. The work of banks depends on money whether customers borrow, lend, save, invest or exchange currencies.

Every country has its own currency. For instance, the USA has its Dollar; Japan has its Yen and Egypt has its pound. Some currencies are beginning to disappear as groups of countries combine to have one currency. In Europe, many countries now use one currency, "The Euro". This European Union aims at facilitating and encouraging trade among them.

You can easily exchange different currencies according to their value. Exchange rates go up and down from day to day, because the value of the currency changes as a result of its economic value.

It makes one a hero

People who do dangerous sports such as mountain climbing, surfing, snorkeling, diving and ballooning usually have several things in common. Most of them are men. “Most men do it to prove their manliness” said a psychiatrist. “It makes one a hero” said a climber. The mountain climber, George H. Willing, was arrested by the police and fined two hundred thousand dollars for his illegal adventure. At first, both police and spectators thought that Mr. Willing was mad. An export suicide rescuer tried to persuade him to give up his attempt. He refused and as the minutes passed by, his view became smaller and smaller. Mr. Willing won the hearts of all below and was cheered and applauded on his way.

Miss P: Frankly, I had a horrible experience here last month. A couple of men entered my house while I was out at a party. I came early to find them in my bedroom with the safe wide open and the jewels in their hands.

Int.: Oh no, what did you do then?

Miss P: Nothing. Before I could dial for the police a handkerchief was pushed into my mouth and I was tied to a chair. The men got away with all my jewels. It took me six hours to get free.
